PUBLISHED WEEKLY IN CANAL POINT BY PAUL RARDIN

CIRCULATING THROUGHOUT THE VAST AGRICULTURAL AREA OF PALM BEACH COUNTY

RECENT OPERATIONS

By Paul Rardin

The Pahokee Supply company is open this week after being closed ten days for a paint job and cobweb removal. The front of the store now sports a coat of some color paint I'm unable to describe. At first sight I thought maybe it was lemon, but Orin Bacon, the proprietor, said no. Then I thought it might be a delicate shade of canary but he informed me that it was banana. Take a peep the next time you pass and see what you think.

Service Stations in the Lake Okeechobee Region are getting around to cleaning up and modernizing. Some of them are clean enough now that you don't have to worry about catching polio when you stop. Others with their filthy rest rooms are still in the doubtful stage. However, Cleve Cruthird in Pahokee has gone all out in modernizing and has air conditioned his station. You'll enjoy a stop there because it is probably one of the cleanest service stations on the shores of Lake Okeechobee.

Last Sunday was my birthday. I received the usual amount of nice gifts and handsome cards. From Pahokee came several cards—regular yearly reminders that I have some folks who really remember the date. Usually I say something about the date in this column—but, this year I didn't. I wanted to test the memory of my friends. They're really good. Then, too, from far off Brazil came greetings by air mail from a former resident of Canal Point. I'm deeply grateful to each and every one who remembered. It seems that the older I get the more I enjoy the little tokens of friendship. How old was I last Sunday? You figure it—I was born the year McKinley was shot.

I'm working on a road deal for the Everglades that will—if completed—put a couple of really bright stars in my crown and many miles of rock roads in the Glades. It sounds too good to be true but I'm working on details. Just as soon as they're perfected I'm going to be looking for invitations to speak before civic clubs so I can present the plan. The deal is so tremendous in size that it really shocks the imagination of a country chap like me. But, when figuring on it, I take a new hold on the corner of my desk and start adding zeroes. It's going to be a dilly. I hope you, Mr. Taxpayer, will like it.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES

H. W. Davis, former resident of Canal Point in the days before the railroad was built, died in Orlando last Friday and was buried on Saturday. The funeral was attended by Bill and Frank Shackford of Canal Point. At one time the deceased was a brother-in-law of the W. R. Shackford of Canal Point.

Jack Waldschlager, who is employed in Meridian, Miss., is spending a couple of weeks in Pahokee with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Waldschlager.

Utility Tax Goes Into Effect Aug. 5 In City Of Pahokee

Ordinance No. 181, passed on final reading by the City Council in Pahokee Tuesday night will go into effect on August 5 and provide for extra revenue through a utility tax. The tax will apply to electricity, water, bottled gas and local telephones. The ordinance was passed in order to raise revenue to help operate the city under the new mayor and council set-up.

The utility tax will be ten percent on any amount up to $25 and five percent tax on any amount over $25 and up to $75. A one percent tax rate will prevail on all amounts over $75, it is pointed out in the new law.

Example: If your electric bill is $8.80 per month then your total bill will be $8.80 plus ten percent tax which is 88 cents for a total of $9.68. On top of this your phone bill might be $5.00. If so, then add an additional ten percent or 50 cents and your phone bill will total $5.50. And so on.

All utility taxes will be collected by the concern handling any particular utility. The power company will collect the tax on their community as will the phone company, bottled gas company. When you pay your water bill at the city hall you will pay the additional tax to the city clerk. On the 15th of each month each utility company will remit to the city clerk all taxes collected during the prior 30 days.

It is interesting to note in the new ordinance that provision is made for "cutting off" any customer who refuses to pay the tax. The power company, for instance, has no recourse other than to "cut off" a power customer if he refuses to pay the tax, though he might be willing to pay the power bill without the tax. This is very clear in the ordinance which is patterned after the one in Delray and Okeechobee and has been tested in court.

It is estimated that the tax from use of electricity will bring in around $7,000 yearly. Other utilities to be taxed will, it is hoped, by the council, bring in around $3,000, giving an extra $10,000 to the city for operational expenses.

Loan Association Growing Steadily

The Everglades Federal Savings and Loan Association in Belle Glade continues to show a healthy and steady growth under its present group of officers, according to a semi-annual statement issued at the end of June. The concern is $100,000 bigger than it was just six short months ago when a statement was issued on December 31, 1945.

Hugh J. Bratley, secretary of the association, said this week that at the next meeting of the board there will be more than $70,000 in applications up for consideration.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. McMillan have just returned from a visit with relatives in North Carolina.

Bill Elam Boys' State Candidate

Bill Elam of Canal Point has been selected by the Pahokee school faculty to attend the American Legion Boys State at Tallahassee August 25-31. This is the third session of Boys State conducted at the State Capitol and at each session Pahokee has had a delegate. Claude S. Jones was the delegate to the first session and Mike Sanders and Monroe Pope were chosen for the honor at the second session.

Pahokee Budget Nearly Doubled

The recently adopted city budget for the City of Pahokee has caused little comment and tax payers seem to realize that it is going to take more money to operate the city during these inflationary times. No severe kicks were registered two weeks ago when the council officially adopted the budget.

The new budget will allow the fire department to spend $3,070.00.

The police department will be taken care of in the amount of $23,950.00.

Streets and sidewalks should be improved a great deal under the budget set-up which allows this department $28,260.00.

The health of the city should be well taken care of as far as sanitation is concerned for there is an item of $17,000.00 for this department.

Miscellaneous item in the budget calls for $5,940.00.

Current expenses will be taken care of out of a fund of $9,580.00. Debt service $2,200.00.

This is a total of around $90,000 or nearly twice as much as any budget ever set up for the City of Pahokee.

New Forms Will Be Issued Builders

Prospective builders in the City of Pahokee in the future will have to make application to the city council before building permits will be issued, according to a new rule issued by that body this week. Application forms will be available and may be obtained at the city clerk's office or from the building inspector, Marvin Cowart, it was pointed out.

The application form includes a full and complete description of the proposed building. Plans and specifications will have to be furnished with the application in order that the council may know definitely just exactly what type building is proposed.

In the past just any kind of a shack could be thrown up just any place. People who spent big money building fine homes had no protection from the fellow who wanted to erect a tarpaper shack alongside. This will be different in the future with the new rules and regulations. Certain specifications will have to be met before a building permit will be issued.

Pahokee's council is making a valiant effort to modernize the city and co-operation is being given on most every hand.

Many New Buildings Are Under Construction In City Of Pahokee

Some building activity is going on in Pahokee despite rising costs in construction and shortages of materials.

The largest building project under construction at present is the A. J. Gamot building which is being erected by Don Hillier and Sons, local contractor, on a lot purchased from R. W. Sanders across from the Orange State Bulk plant on Main Street. The building 75x100 feet is the only building in Pahokee that is entirely fire proof according to Contractor Hillier. The construction is of reinforced concrete with masonry walls and floors. When completed the two story structure will be a nice addition to the business section. It will be used as an automobile sales and service building for the Plymouth-Dodge agency. A small room 20x50 will be used as an electric appliance store.

Don Hillier and Sons are also completing a 7-room modern bungalow in the Rice sub-division which Mr. Hillier will use as his residence. The building is constructed of interlocking clay tile, concrete foundation, masonry walls and asbestos shingle roof. He expects to move his family into the building the first of August.

The building in which he now resides will be used for rental property. Hillier has two more bungalows under construction in the same section. One, a 5-room house, is being erected on a lot located between the Hooperich and Jones properties for his son Gordon Hillier. The other also a 5-room bungalow is being constructed on a lot adjoining the new Hillier residence and will be offered for sale when completed. Both buildings are of pre-cast concrete foundation and floors, masonry walls and asbestos shingle roofs.

Herman Kautz, veteran of World War II, is erecting a two-story concrete block building on Bacon Point Road adjoining the Durrance Fish Market. The first floor will be used as an electric appliance store and an office for the O. R. Bleech Insurance Agency. The second floor will be used as living quarters for Kautz and his family. Bob Durrance has made an addition to his Fish Market and remodeled the old building making space for the store and also living quarters for his family.

Hillier and Sons are completing a 2-story concrete block building near the Florida East Coast depot for C. J. Hengry. The first floor of the building will be used for a restaurant and filling station and the second floor will have rooms for truck drivers who haul produce from the nearby packing center to northern markets.

Jones and Brothers are having a pre-cooling plant constructed in the Canal Point industrial district. The plant is located on a lot between the Chastain packing plant and Delma Hooks property on the Lake Front Drive. Pre-cooling equipment will be installed on the first floor to pre-cool celery grown by Jones Brothers and the second floor will be devoted to office space. This is the third pre-cooling plant to be erected in the Pahokee area.

Van Stuckey is completing a tourist court consisting of 24 small cottages on the Canal Point-

Pahokee Road adjoining his property. The cottages are 12x24 and will be completed and furnished by the opening of the season.

Other building activity includes a small bungalow recently constructed by S. F. Graydon on E. Main Street adjoining the Schroder property and which is being occupied by Mr. Graydon and his family; a 4-room bungalow on W. A. Jones' property on E. Main Street for Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Thompson, bookkeeper for Jones Brothers; A residence for C. W. Dukes also on E. Main Street and a modern bungalow being constructed by O. L. Flynn on a lot recently purchased from W. H. Vann on E. Main Street. This house is of frame construction concrete foundation and asbestos shingle finish.

J. Connell recently moved a building which he purchased from Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Sanders to a lot on the Ridge, E. Main Street and has remodeled and repaired it. George Behle has purchased the old Bob Collins Home across from the Alderman Brothers warehouse and has remodeled it for rental purposes.

The Kaltenbruner building which C. T. Jackson purchased and moved from Main Street to a lot on Bacon Point Drive has been converted into a modern bungalow and Mr. and Mrs. Jackson and family moved into it this week. Victor L. Geiger, proprietor of Geiger Lumber Company, has two houses under construction in the Geiger Addition No. 1. The 2-bed room bungalow is nearing completion and the 3-bed room house is well underway. Both are of frame construction and will be offered for sale when completed.

Mrs. B. Elliott has opened a new sub-division which will be known as the Velva Elliott Gardens on Barfield Highway. The new addition has 22 lots. Mrs. Elliott has moved four of the houses on her Barfield highway property, to the new subdivision and is having them remodeled and additions made. W. D. Unwin has moved a house from the Belle Glade Road to a lot on Barfield Highway and has remodeled it for his home.

Real estate sales have been booming in this section and as soon as building materials are available a building boom is predicted. Construction of the proposed swimming pool and bath houses in the City Park and the 48 new homes for returned veterans in the new sub-division, Verville, are being held up because building material is not available. The ground in the new addition has been broken and the streets graded. According to Claude S. Jones, manager of the veterans office here, the master abstract is being examined this week and individual deeds will be issued within the next few weeks.

Henry E. Kilpatrick of Sanford, who is a student at the University of Florida in Gainesville, is visiting his uncles and aunts Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Thomas and family and Mr. and Mrs. Luke Fraser. He was accompanied by Timmy Jim Mulls also a student at the University, who is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Mulls in Pahokee.

Another Piper To Pay

Lord Inverchapel, new British ambassador to Washington, plans to bring a young bagpiper from the Scottish Highlands along with him to play at state functions. Wonder if anybody has told his excellency that he'll have to clear that with Petrillo?—Lexington (Ky.) Leader.

Juvenile Deadline

Announcement that police will pick up and return to their homes juveniles found in "juke joints" and other spots after midnight, is an encouraging indication that at least some realistic measures are being undertaken to meet the delinquency problem in New Orleans. A further sign of progress in this direction is the added announcement that, in repeated offenses, parents will be brought to juvenile court. Police control of the problem can never be substituted for parental control, but thoughtless parents can be jolted into recognizing their proper responsibilities.

A midnight deadline works no hardship on youngsters who should be at home in bed long before that time. Idle dawdling in establishments selling liquor can confer no benefits on children. Such places are, indeed, incubators of delinquency.—New Orleans Times-Picayune.

Song Writers Gyped

The trade magazine, "Advertising and Selling" exposes a within-the-law racket that has been promoted for some time now, using the gullible public as its victim. "Write a song; we'll set it to music publish it and place it in the hands of radio stations, band leaders, etc.," says the published appeal. The words, no matter how much they lack merit, are set to simple "music"; a few copies are printed and distributed—but not until the talented "song writer" has remitted $30 or as much as the traffic will bear, for incidental expenses. Fame and fortune are promised if one is successful.

It's an old racket in a new form. The ambitious but gullible "song writer" is out $30, and the racketeering firm has pocketed about $25. Save your money.—Titusville Star-Advocate.

One-Half Free

Federal law rather sternly forbids all efforts on the part of employers to discourage unionization. Any employer who interferes by a single word with the process of unionization is subject to the charge of unfair labor practices and may be punished severely enough. But circulated generally today is a pamphlet from the department of labor urging the women of America to encourage the unionization and to support it in every reasonable way.

Thus the employer who is not permitted to express his own opinion is taxed to defray the cost of printing and circulating a pamphlet whose opinion does violence to his own. Certainly America is still a free country. That is, one-half of it is free.—Oklahoma City (Okla.) Daily Oklahoman.

Open House At Methodist Parsonage

The theme of the sermon by Rev. William Blair next Sunday morning at the Canal Point Methodist Church will be "Changing Dirt to Diamonds". In the evening worship service the theme will be "Shutting Doors and Opening Hearts" with the text from Matthew 6:6, "When thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father . . .".

The minister wants to meet with all young people in the church fellowship for five or ten minutes immediately after the evening service to make plans for starting Methodist Youth Fellowship and League groups for all ages.

All members and friends are invited to the Methodist Parsonage Open House on Friday evening, July 26. The parsonage has been completely repainted and renovated on the inside by many workers and Rev. and Mrs. Blair hope that all who are interested can attend to see the fine work that has been done. Come any time after seven and visit for a while.

HOME FROM ALABAMA

Miss S. A. Weathers returned to her home in Pahokee Saturday after spending three weeks with friends and relatives in Alabama. While there Miss Weathers and relatives visited Chattanooga and Lookout Mountain.

Ellis Wilkinson has returned to his home in Pahokee from Deleware. His mother who accompanied him there remained for a long visit.

Indian Banquet Features Social

An Indian Banquet featured the close of the youth activities at the Pahokee Methodist Church Friday evening in the social hall. The banquet tables were lowered and guest sat on the floor Indian fashion. Table decorations were Indian tepees and tepee programs and menues. Chief Know-It-All Melvin Spooner was master of ceremonies and read the past and future of the guests. The Rev. C. T. Howes spoke to the group in the Indian language and Indian songs were sung and games played. An Indian dance was staged by the following girls: Miss Fay Tuten, Miss Laurie Rogers, Miss Margaret Anderson, Miss Patsy Batchelor and Miss Lucille Rogers. Indian headgear was worn by the guests throughout the evening.

Following the banquet the final consecration service was conducted in the church auditorium with Miss Nell Howes in charge and Miss Miriam Haynes as speaker.

Committees in charge of the banquet arrangements were: Miss Fay Tuten, recreation; Miss Howes, Miss Haynes, decorations and Mrs. B. Elliott, menu.

Bleeches Celebrate Silver Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Otto R. Bleech celebrated their silver anniversary at their home on Bacom Point Road Sunday evening.

The centerpiece for the bride's table was an attractive arrangement of pink roses in a silver basket. The wedding cake, done in blue and silver and topped with a miniature bridal arch with silver bells, and the crystal punch bowl completed the table appointments.

Serving at the bride's table were: Miss Louise Sims, Miss Jean Shaughnessy, Miss Betty McLarty, and Miss Joy Bailey.

A buffet supper was served to those attending with Mrs. Frank M. Shaughnessy, Mrs. G. Lawton Sims, and Mrs. Abe Dobrow assisting.

Mr. and Mrs. Bleech were married in Winter Park on July 21, 1921. Their two children, Jeanie and Ross, are both deceased. Their son, a lieutenant in the Navy Air Corps, lost his life in a plane accident during the recent war. Out-of-town guests attending were: Mr. Bleech's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Colin Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Parker of Orlando, Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Payne and Mr. and Mrs. Nick Kotch of Lake Placid; Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Bregger and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bailey and daughter of Belle Glade.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

"TRUTH" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world on Sunday, July 28.

The Golden Text is: "Into thine hand I commit my spirit; thou hast redeemed me, O Lord God of truth" (Ps. 31:5).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Lead me in thy truth, and teach me: for thou art the God of my salvation: then do I wait all the day. All the paths of the Lord are mercy and truth unto such as keep his covenant and his testimonies" (Ps. 25:5,10).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "In Science, Truth is divine, and the infinite God can have no unlikeness. Did God, Truth, create error? No! 'Doth a fountain send forth at the same place sweet water and bitter?' God being everywhere and all-inclusive, how can He be absent or suggest the absence of omnipresence and omniscience? How can there be more than all?" (p. 287-10-16).

Mock-Byrd

The forthcoming marriage of Miss Lois Byrd to Kenneth Mock is announced today by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Byrd of Pahokee.

The nuptial service will take place in the Methodist Church on Sunday, August 11.

Miss Byrd was graduated from the Florida State College for Women in Tallahassee last spring with a degree in journalism. Mr. Mock is a graduate of the University of Georgia where he studied agricultural engineering. He was discharged from the army in May after serving a year overseas. He is now employed at the Belle Glade Experiment Station as an agricultural engineer.

Take Your Pulse

Every time your heart beats, one of 800,000,000 people dies of starvation somewhere in the world!

You can DO something about it in your own kitchen!

Use and reuse your cooking fats, and when you have gotten all their food value, turn them in to your meat dealer for four cents per pound. Your salvaged fats are used here at home to help make soap and other peacetime necessities. Your fat salvage releases fresh food fats for distribution abroad. Save every drop to help yourself and to relieve suffering and shortages throughout the world.

If you've never been hungry—if you've never missed a meal, it is hard to realize how acute a hunger pain can be. Those of us here in the Everglades who are blessed with much food could do a great deal to ease the hunger pains of millions if we but conserve food. Cinematic Chatter

By Malcolm Millar

This Sunday-Monday comes a reissue that you will enjoy seeing again . . . "North West Mounted Police", which stars Garry Cooper, Madeline Carroll, Paulette Goddard, Robert Preston, Akim Tamiroff and Lynn Overman.

"North West Mounted Police", if you will remember, tells the story of a lank Texas Ranger who pursues his man right into Canada. Our interest in during the time he is in Canada, his meeting with the criminal and the adventures he goes through until the final capture.

Paulette Goddard is seen in one of her best parts as an Indian girl who betrays her lover, a "Mountie", who is Preston Foster into being the means of his partner being killed and his desertion from the force."

Thursday-Friday Jack Haley, Helen Walker, Francis Langford, Rudy Vallee, Ozzie Nelson and the Vagabonds move in with their show of the air "People" are Funny."

Haley and Vallee are responsible for most of the comedy, which is light and clever, with here and there some hokum for "belly laughs". Francis Langford sings "I'm in the mood for love." Vallee does "Oloueta" and "The Vagabonds" square away with some bright harmonious barbershop chords.

Saturday brings an all star cast in the Western picture "Bells of Rosarita."

In the second picture up Warner Baxter, Dusty Anderson and other assistants do "The Crime Doctors Warning". It's actionated, shonough!

See you at the movies—Mal.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a street length dress of white sheer crepe with embroidered plenum and matching embroidery at the neck line. She wore a small white lace straw hat with an illusion veil and matching accessories. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet of white carnations and her only ornament was a strand of pearls worn by her great grandmother.

Miss Theresa Connell was the bride's only attendant. She wore a street-length dress of blue crepe with white accessories and carried an arm bouquet of pink carnations.

Horace Unwin was his brother's best man and ushers were Charles Baker, brother of the bride and Marvin Unwin, brother of the groom.

The bride's mother wore an ensemble of blue and white crepe with white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations. Mrs. Unwin chose a white dress with white accessories, and her corsage was pink roses.

Mr. Unwin is a graduate of the Pahokee High School, class 1944 and Mr. Unwin, the class of 1942. He recently received his discharge from the Army after 3 years of service.

"SERVING THE GLADES"

YOU CAN GIVE, IF YOU SAVE!

Yes, Lady—that is what it amounts to, when you save your used kitchen fats. Fats and oils are short the world over, and 800,000,000 people are in imminent danger of starvation.

YOU GIVE others a chance to live, when you eat less bread and when you curtail your use of fats and oils. Use and reuse what you buy, and turn your used fat in to your meat dealer for four cents a pound.

REMEMBER—your salvaged fats are used here at home to help make soap and other peacetime necessities. Save every drop to help yourself and to relieve suffering and shortages throughout the world.

Here in the lush Everglades—with food growing on every hand—it is hard to realize that millions of people are starving. Let's save just a little food here and a little there in order that these millions may exist throughout goodness. With this thought in mind, this message is sponsored by:
